. OREMLA is packed in release also known as Package.rar, and this will be the first pack to be posted. December 28th, 2016. Our next episode will be featuring Jay Ardill of ReactiveX. At the end of the episode we have an interview with him. I think you guys will enjoy that. A big thanks to him. His company, ReactiveX is by far one of my favorite podcasting companies and anyone working with them is a friend of mine. Jay has a master's degree in Mathematics, and he works as a technology strategy consultant. His blog is a fascinating read and I recommend that you check it out. Please take this chance to contact Jay Ardill and talk to him. He is not a robot so you don't have to be afraid of him. He has an open personality and he loves talking to people so please contact him and talk to him. He will love talking with you. On our next episode we have a special guest. His name is Timothy S. Turner and he is a member of the AICPA. I highly recommend you guys to check out his podcast. He has a personality that will make you want to listen. His podcast is called "Technology Money". Thank you for listening to the show. If you enjoyed it please share it. You can also review it on iTunes and Google Play. Also please send us an email with your feedback. You can contact me at info@packmage.com This is our last episode of the year. I don't know about you guys but I don't want this year to end. I want to enjoy it. It's been a hard year for me and it is even harder for my family. I don't want it to end and I think you don't want it to end either. So, let's make this year a bit longer. That's it. That's all for today. I wish all of you a nice holiday season. See you guys and I will see you on the next episode. Package is packed!Download it now on iTunes and Google Play. This is our 30th episode of the year. We have a special guest. His name is David Kim. He is a game developer and he is a staff developer for Game Informer magazine. He has been working as a staff developer for a long time
